

Quran, Surah 2: Verse 261

"مثل الذين ينفقون اموالهم في سبيل الله كمثل حبة اُنبتت سبع سنابل في كل سنبلة مائة حبه، و الله يضاعف لمن يشاء والله واسع عليم."

"The example of those who spend of their wealth in divine service is similar to sown individual grains of corn growing seven ears, each ear carrying a hundred grains. Allah thankfully reimburses multi-fold to whom He will, and Allah's grace abounds in the universe, and He knows all thing."

Verifiable Hadith

"إذا مات ابن آدم، انقطع عمله إلا من ثلاث: صدقه جارية، او علم ينتفع به، او ولد صالح يدعو له."

"When a son of Adam dies, the reward of his deeds will be cut except for three. A continuous charity, a knowledge that people benefit from, and a righteous child supplicating for him."

Sponsoring an Islamic school satisfies all three righteous deeds and gives you that continuous reward multiplied by hundreds of children. In an Islamic school, our children learn Islamic knowledge, their deen and later teach it to their own children and the world. Your donation will keep yielding unparalleled reward, for each time a child bows to Allah and praises Him (SWT) – as he / she learned it in school-, you will gain the continuous rewards for them, their children after them and for ages to come. An Islamic school is the best place on earth for earning you the great reward of a righteous son or daughter, whose supplication for you is accepted by Allah (SWT).
